

DELILAH'S STORY

The Queen or the Diva? Answer: both!

Delilah is the presiding Queen of the Forgotten Felines office, and she well knows it. But her reign is one characterized by elegance and grace. She doesn't need to wear a crown of gold – that would be much too tacky for our beautiful girl!

Delilah is 9 years old and probably the longest-lounging resident of the Forgotten Felines office. She initially had a temperament befitting of a true Diva – a little swatting here, a little tantrum there, but she has mellowed during her stay and is constant companion to any one of us at our desks. Of course, she chooses who and when! Naturally, she likes to remind us that she is still the Queen and we should think ourselves very fortunate to work in the presence of such a beauty. With a tail like a feather boa, she commands obedience!

Delilah loves a lap and to be petted – she doesn't like to be lifted though – she likes to call the shots in her relationships! Bear this in mind and respect her wishes and you will have a loyal and regal companion with whom you will reap the benefits of sharing your (excuse me – HER) dominion and when your friends or family come over to visit they will 'ooh' and 'aah' in her presence. Especially over that amazing tail!

Just remember the salmon pate at all times, and you will stay in her good graces. Got a silver platter?? (Just kidding – not.)

Delilah has reached her stately middle age, and would prefer a home with a cat-savvy individual/s who will allow her complete freedom to be herself, and will be worshipful and adoring in Her Presence, and happy to share themselves and their home with this beauty. Delilah would probably like to be the only cat in the household, no dogs, no children - just the way she likes it!

Delilah tends to breathe rapidly when she is nervous, frightened or stressed, so it is important for her to have a calm, quiet environment. She also does not like to be picked up.
